On the other hand , Cultural meaning so what is it. Cultural meaning is commonly used by folks in any time for example in interviews , reports , exams also lessons we can use this idiomatic language. In additon, in different examples of this idiomatic targets that can increase our language fluency , accuracy and language meaning .

Key words : Linguistic features , Figurative meaning, Non-literal meaning, Semantic opacity, Language capacity , Fixed expressions , Metaphor , Cultural context, Non clutural contex ,Phraseology, Non-compositionality , Lexical stability, Idiomatic expressions , different meaning in teaching social stability .

Firstly, we need to understand the meaning of main features of this idiomatic language. A idiom is fixed language that we can express our emotions and meaning of words through literal meaning of individuals words.[2,45] In today's world everyday we used in language to access and obtain meaning of words and often figurative meanings, for example Break the ice – to set up communication or make individuals feel comfortable. When it comes to linguistic features are most commonly used by people in language units . In idioms , these meanings should be relatable include their meaning , usage , and cultural background .[3,45] Figurative meaning refers to a meaning that is not literal but symbolic or imaginative. Idioms usually express ideas figuratively rather than directly.

Example: A heart of stone – a person who has no sympathy. When it comes to Non-literal Meaning meaning means the expression cannot be understood by translating each word separately. [4, 56] The meaning is different from the dictionary meanings of the words but in some points we should not use this idioms becous it will be informal during speech .Example: Kick the bucket – means to die, not literally to kick a bucket. However Semanic idioms like opacity means can be some difficult , unclear, hidden it will be semantic idiomatic language , this makes idiomatic difficulties can come across in each lessons. [2,45] In many analysis of language teaching we should focus on how to use idioms correctly and directly . We learned also methapor expressions , and context and also many features . [4,67] In phraseology we should start to use idioms phraseology is the study of expressions , idioms , uncommon and common phrases during language system . Metaphor is the figurative meaning speech that compares to the new idiomatic language two things indirectly .[3,67] When it comes to the cultural context meaning of idioms is the traditional way of learning idioms that students should focus on easily. Culture and history of the people who use the language understanding , cultural context helps learners understand idioms better. Non – compositionality is also main type of using idioms feature that can not be calculated during classes with individuals. The whole expressions has a special meaning [1,45] . Hit the sack – go to bed . Idiomatic expressions are phrases functions like idioms and have figurative meaning. They make speech more fluently , expressive and culturative rich . Idioms are important part of every language and play huge role during communication.[7,78] The study of idioms assist to improve linguistic understand how language and ideas in a figurative and culturally rich way . Linguistic features of idioms include figurative meaning semantic structure , fixed structure .[4,87] For example , Break the ice – to start a conversation in a social situation , example, teacher told a joke to break the ice in the class. It can be more useful to express the opinion of people. The next one is under the weather this idiom is related to feeling sick or not well person’s feeling . I am not under the weather today cuz I am not doing my best . It can be cool because during speaking we can use this expressions for many reasons . [3,56] The next one is Let the cat out of the bag is the meaning of reveal the secret that can not say to anyone because the secret is accidentally reveal . He is going to let the car out of the bag because the reasons were not said by others. Also the ball is in your court is your turn to make a decision or take an action.[6,78] Burn the midnight oil Meaning: to work or study late at night. Sentence: Students often burn the midnight oil before exams. Kill two birds with one stone Meaning: to achieve two goals with one action.Sentence By walking to school, she kills two birds with one stone: exercise and saving money . In conclusion, idioms are unique linguistic units that enrich language and communication.[3,67] Their meanings are often non-literal and cannot be understood by analyzing individual words. If we know about idioms how to use in a context or speech, it will be great to express our idear freely and fluently .[5,33] Idioms also reflect the culture and traditions of a language community. Understanding the linguistic features of idioms helps language learners and researchers better understand how figurative language works in everyday communication. In language literacy means of word can be great because it must not calculated by someone to translate directly .[2,45] In addition, The whole meaning of individuals have used many times during their interviews because it can effect on their speech rather than communication through grammar . Idiomatic language is common in today’s world it can open the door of the future because ,many speech can appear through idioms and phrases like this .[2,46] Phraseology can open the door also fixed expressions idioms, common phrases used during lectures and seminars beacuse every student should know about the language accuracy and fluency of words . In additon we can not make a mistake by using this expressions and idioms because it can not correctly by others , so that phrases and its features explained more than others rather than formed and used in language system .
